

Code of Conduct for Speakers and Delegates at SCSC Events

The SCSC is a community offering networking and support, promoting inclusion within the engineering community. It encourages freedom of speech and debate, whilst ensuring a safe and respectful environment.

The SCSC asks speakers and delegates to act in accordance with this Code of Conduct.

- Approach everyone with kindness, respect and an open mind; assume positive intent
- Be curious and ready to learn; reach out for diverse ideas and opinions
- Use appropriate language and behaviours
 - be aware of jargon
 - include different sectors and industries
 - explain terms
 - be mindful of the audience and recordings (especially for humour)
 - avoid anything potentially offensive like profanities or anything impacting protected characteristics.

The SCSC reserves the right to pause a presentation, question or discussion at any time to maintain a supportive environment.

If you have any queries about the code of conduct, please contact events@scsc.uk
